ARIZONA DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS
STYLE GUIDE
(Director's Correspondence)

DEPARTMENT GUIDELINES FOR CORRESPONDENCE AND MEMORANDUMS

The Director expects that any staff member who prepares correspondence or instructions for his signature will use proper grammar. The current edition of the Gregg Reference Manual is the appropriate source for grammar and style.

* The Director's office will edit documents for style, format, usage and grammar; however, authors are ultimately responsible for the document and any deadlines related to it. The author should include a critical editing/proofreading process, to include grammar and spelling, when drafting documents for the Director.

* Final drafts should be submitted for signature (the Director's office may request the electronic copy i.e., CD or by e-mail.)

STYLE - Except where there is a different, pre-approved project format, the default style will use Times New Roman, 12-point pitch font with "FULL" Justification.

MARGINS - The default margin is 1 inch on all sides. You may adjust the bottom margin - no smaller than 0.5 inch. The right and left margins may be adjusted as well. When preparing correspondence, which you expect to print on letterhead, the top margin will be 2.6 inches. Subsequent pages will use a 1inch default margin. The appearance of the document should be the main consideration.

Deputy Director, Division Directors, Assistant Director, and Bureau Administrators may approve a specific format for a particular project or report. Such approvals will not include letters prepared for the Director's signature. Individual letters and memos that the Director signs, will always use the font and style outlined in this guide.

REFERENCE LINE - As shown in the examples, it may be necessary on letters to include a reference line written as "RE:". On a memorandum a "SUBJECT:" line is used.

PAPER - For letters the Director will sign, the first page will be buff bond letterhead; subsequent pages are to be plain buff bond. Use the buff for the Deputy Director and the Division Directors/Assistant Director as well. Letters signed by other agency managers will use white bond letterhead with copper seals, subsequent pages are white bond. Memorandums and routine intra-agency correspondence will be on regular grade white paper. Envelopes will correspond in color and paper grade.

ACRONYMS - The use of acronyms is discouraged, except in cases where the usage has become accepted language. Where an ACRONYM is used, the first use in a letter or memorandum will spell the item out; the acronym is identified in parenthesis. For example - The Arizona Department of Administration (ADOA) will determine. . ., is an acceptable use.

* You may use the acronym ADC when referring to the Arizona Department of Corrections. You may use the term "Department" as well. Use the rule for first use identified above. Pick one and use it consistently. Do not use other terms, such as agency or ADOC.

* For the Director’s correspondence use the acronym rule for identification of a specific institution. Spell out Arizona State Prison Complex. For example, Arizona State Prison Complex - Eyman, Cook Unit (ASPC-Eyman, Cook Unit). Thereafter you may use ASPC.

BEGINNING A LETTER - When responding to a specific inquiry, begin the letter – “Thank you for your recent [identify the letter, e-mail or other document], dated [actual date of correspondence], regarding. . .” or “Thank you for your telephone call concerning. . .” The second sentence will be a variation of this sentence. “I asked [describe who, including full name and position] to research your concern and s/he advised accordingly.” As an alternate, “. . . advised me of the following information,” is acceptable.

CLOSING - When appropriate, a correspondent may be referred to a specific staff member for further assistance. Include the person’s name, title, phone number and address.

ENCLOSURE/ATTACHMENT - For letters or other correspondence, any document(s) included with the letter is an “Enclosure(s).” For a memo such documents are “Attachment(s).”

COMMON PROBLEMS - Following are some common issues and acceptable solutions.

- When referring to Arizona law, the correct usage is Arizona Revised Statutes. The term is plural. In writing it is “A.R.S. §41-1604. Duties and powers of the director.” Note that only the first word is capitalized. ' is the symbol for section and is always used when referring to statutes, either federal or state.
- Refer to legal cases as follows: Doe v. Smith, or . . . in reference to the Doe case.
- When referring to a specific Department Order the correct format is Department Order (DO) #911, Inmate Visitation. Later references are to “DO.”
- Addresses - It is important to address Arizona state government officials correctly. Following are examples.

The Honorable Tim Bee, President
Arizona State Senate
1700 West Washington
Phoenix, Arizona 85007

The Honorable Jim Weiers
Arizona House of Representatives
1700 West Washington
Phoenix, Arizona 85007

Dear President Bee:

Dear Representative Weiers:

- Addresses in General - Correct examples may be found in the Gregg Reference Manual or in the sample letters included in this guide.
- Appearance - Font, margin and other format styles are intended to create a consistent pleasing appearance for Department correspondence.

Where practical, letters and memorandums should not exceed one page. If necessary, font sizes may be adjusted using an 11 or 10 point font. Adjust the margins; not line spacing.

If a second page is necessary, use a pleasing page break. Never break and leave the closing alone. Splitting a sentence or paragraph usually is not appropriate. At least two sentences of a paragraph should remain on page one and two on the top of page two.

- Language - Avoid outdated, overused phrases, slang and jargon. Some examples are phrases such as:

“Enclosed herewith please find” Concisely put, “Enclosed is....”

“Needless to say.” Why say it?

“Be advised.” Stiff and somewhat rude!

TITLES - In general, titles are to be treated as a proper noun when referring to a class or to a specific individual. For example Correctional Officer will begin with capital letters. Individual units or work area titles are to be capitalized as well i.e., the Stiner Unit or the Prison Operations Bureau. Non-specific uses are to be lower case, for example, “prison units,” or “shift supervisors.”

STAFF WORK/BACKGROUND INFORMATION -

- Place a >sign here or colored tab everywhere the Director is requested to sign; if there are multiple signatures, be sure to place tabs in a staggered order, so the Director can locate each place to sign.
- If the document for signature is in a folder, place all backup information on the inside of the folder, with the letter to be signed paper clipped on top with a tab at the signature location. If included, a transmittal memo to the Director regarding correspondence to be signed may be clipped either on top of, or on the left inside of the folder.
- Date correspondence at least one day ahead of the date it is submitted. Keep in mind that the Director’s schedule may not always allow time for him/her to review and sign a document the same day it is submitted. Hint: A letter submitted to the Director’s office late on a Thursday afternoon is best dated for the next Monday.

For certain items, for example a Director’s Instruction, distribution is an issue and it may be best to leave the date blank until actual distribution.

- Project Numbers. The examples shown include proper placement and use of project numbers. It is possible for a single piece of correspondence to have both a Director’s office number and an Action Form number from the Governor’s office.

Courtesy Copies (cc): Keep copies to a minimum. Usually, only those staff who have had a direct interest in the specific case will get a copy along with the inmate involved.

In most cases, when responding on behalf of the Governor, we will not send a copy directly to the Governor. Instead, the copy goes to the Governor's Office for Constituent Services. (See the examples.)

- Remember the rule of thumb, "Can it pass the headline test?"

Dear Mr. Johnson:

Thank you for your recent letter regarding reconsideration of your disqualification from the Correctional Officer hiring process.

After a review of this matter, I find that you have been appropriately disqualified from the Correctional Officer hiring process. In accordance with rules promulgated by the Arizona Peace Officer Standards and Training Board, your arrest in 1995 automatically renders you ineligible to hold a position as a Correctional Officer with the Arizona Department of Corrections.

I appreciate the opportunity to respond to your concerns and wish you the best of luck in future endeavors.

Sincerely,

RE: Inmate Jon Doe, ADC #98765432

Dear:

Thank you for your recent letter in which you inquired about having your [relation] moved to [name prison] which is closer to your home. I empathize with your wish to have your [relation] placed closer to your home. However, because of the large number of inmates in our system, we do not have the resources to relocate inmates for the reason of family hardship, when inmates are already housed at the appropriate custody level. Therefore, we are unable to accommodate your request.

You may contact [name], Inmate Family and Friends Liaison for the Arizona Department of Corrections, at [telephone number]. The coordinator will be happy to work with you in contacting community organizations that can assist with your transportation or other issues.

RE: Inmate John Doe, ADC #98765432

Dear:

Thank you for your recent letter concerning your [relation, inmate's name]. As you know, the Arizona Department of Corrections (ADC) has devoted considerable resources in the past to respond to your numerous letters regarding your [relation]'s well being. Regrettably, rather than satisfying your inquiries and requests, our responses to your correspondence seem only to stimulate further letters and complaints from you. Although I can sympathize with the difficulties and worries associated with having a [relation] in prison, I hope that you will understand in turn my responsibility to use the ADC's resources efficiently. Additionally, I have reviewed our response to your last letter, and I believe that it adequately addressed your questions and complaints.

Your future letters to the Department will be read and given due consideration. However, please be informed that henceforth the Department will not reply to your correspondence unless your concerns are found to have merit. Of course, you and your [relation] can still avail yourselves of legal remedies in the court, if you believe that your claims have merit and you have not received appropriate ADC attention.

Sincerely,
